One act – three acts, p. 88

36 Questions is a podcast series consisting of three episodes called “acts”, in reference to acts in a stage play. However, each episode is also neatly structured around the three-act composition.

Team up with another student and fill out the worksheet below. It will help you find the key scenes and explain their importance.

Afterwards, share your findings in class and agree on the plot point scenes and point of no return – as well as their significance for the characters etc.
